Thought for the Day:

Live a good, honorable life, and then when you get old and look back you will enjoy it the second time.

Happy Fines and Brags by AL S.:

GERRY G., delayed fine for full page story in Sun City Lincoln Hills paper, with a dazzling picture with loads of medals hanging on Debbie;

DICK G., no fine, "for the earliest you have been late;"

BRENDA G., for dance lessons with husband Steve and our own KEN M.;

RANDY S., for 42-point win by GBHS over Roseville;

Pres. JEFF, for GBHS Freshman victory of 42-0 over Oakmont, and the first time his fullback grandson didn't make a touchdown but only a 2-point conversion;

BRENDA G., for going to GB-Oakmont game last week, but sitting on Oakmont side because one of her nephews is an Oakmont coach;

JIM L., for older son getting a kidney stone early one morning and receiving excellent care at Sutter Roseville Medical Center (JIM said if you use Patricia Marquez's name there is no charge.);

ALLISON R., for BOB S. doing an excellent job with the Pottery World Raffle each year;

PAT H., for two years with Stifel Nicolaus and for SN being named as 25th fastest growing company in the U.S. by Fortune magazine;

JIM D., for touring Texas with MIKE B. (MIKE B. said at least Ann D. was good company.);

MIKE B., for trip with JIM D. and wives;

AL S., for story about Luigi having his wife chosen, etc., as an example of how Italians do business;

RICH S., for blonde asking for a cheeseburger, fries and a milkshake in a library, quietly;

DICK G., for story of golfer whose wife had a heart problem on the 9th hole, and only had to wait for the doctor to play through.

Road Cleanup:

JIM D. recommended postponing road cleanup until road work is finished on Douglas.

Board Meeting:

The regular second-Tuesday Board meeting was held last week at FRANK A's office.

New Meeting Place:

Just for today we will meet on a trial basis at Quarry Ponds. If you are reading this in hard copy then you were alert and got the message.

Four Avenues of Service

1 Club Service focuses on strengthening fellowship and ensuring the effective functioning of the club.

2 Vocational Service encourages Rotarians to serve others through their vocations and to practice high ethical standards.

3 Community Service covers the projects and activities the club undertakes to improve life in its community.

4 International Service encompasses actions taken to expand Rotary's humanitarian reach around the globe and to promote world understanding and peace.

The Object of Rotary

To encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular to encourage and foster:

FIRST: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND: High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his/her occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD: The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life.

FOURTH: The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men and women united in the ideal of service.

Voting:

JACK M. encouraged us all to fill out and turn in our Ballots.

Pottery World Raffle:

Visiting Rotarian Paula Colombo drew the winners of three $250 Pottery World gift cards.

RotoRun:

BRENDA G. showed us the save-the-date postcard/flyers for our RotoRun May 16, 2010. MIKE C's son-in-law did a web page for the RotoRun, www.rotorun.com.

Program:

There was no Program last week.

History of The Rotary Foundation - How it All Began

It was mid morning, just about the time that most businesses saw their people enjoying a coffee break. RI President Arch C. Klumph had climbed to the podium that Monday morning, June 18, 1917, during the First Plenary session of the International Convention in Atlanta, to present his annual address. Klumph, from Cleveland, welcomed the Rotarians who were attending, commended the hospitality of his hosts, noted the birth of the Atlanta club through the evangelism of the Birmingham, Alabama, club, and discussed his year as President of the International Association of Rotary Clubs. Then, bringing to the attendees the issue of a dream that he had nurtured all year, he said:

"We have called the attention of the organization this year to the possibility of a future endowment fund for Rotary. Carrying on, as we are, a miscellaneous community service, it seems eminently proper that we should accept endowments for the purpose of doing good in the world, in charitable, educational or other avenues of community progress; or such funds could be well used for extension work. I know of no more commendable use for the vast millions possessed by men in this country than that certain sums might be endowed to Rotary for the purpose of establishing Rotary clubs in all nations of the world."

By virtue of a near unanimous ballot of the delegates, Klumph's idea of an endowment fund for Rotary became a technical reality.

Technical, because it wasn't until after the Rotary Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, the following year that the first funds were received for the Fund. The amount? $26.50, which represented the net proceeds of the 1918 convention. The Kansas City club had originally wanted to put the amount toward a keepsake or memento for Klumph, but had decided to donate it all to the new Endowment Fund. It was just a few days later that a contribution was received from a past president of the Rotary Club of San Francisco, club number 2. He wrote, "I believe that when a fellow like Arch Klumph puts forth an idea, it is bound to be good."

The idea of an endowment was not a new one. The day that Arch C. Klumph retired from the presidency of his own Rotary club in Cleveland, Ohio, four years previously, Klumph proposed that "an emergency fund should be built up which will enable the club in future years to do many things." Even in the midst of World War I, and the concerns over world events, Klumph's ability to change his dream of the future into the reality of 1917, through the help of others was not an accident.

Surprising Fact!

EVERYONE REMEMBERS THE HORRIFYING December 2004 Tsunami. But what few people know - because almost no media reported this fact - is that nearly half of total relief donations worldwide, $2.78 billion, came from ordinary U.S. citizens. Celebrities and big corporations got press, but not these individual small donors, most of whom gave less than $50.
